3. WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

We'll process this request within 5 business days of it being received. If the form's missing information, we'll contact you.

Once your request has been submitted to the distributor, we'll get in touch to let you know the expected timeframes for them to complete the work – but usually a gas service line requires a minimum of 20 business days for installation.

Some requests may need you to approve quotes from the distributor before they can start. If this applies to your request, we'll contact you to ask your approval before proceeding.

Don't forget to leave clear and safe access to the area for the work to be completed.

Product and service offers

From time to time we'll let you know about our great products and offers. But if you don't want us to, just tick the box below.
